

2.2.4

Mentor-mentis group is formed every year in the College of Education-Kharod. Institution keeping in view the number of students when creating this group. Keep in mind at the subject of the mentor is the same as the subject of the mentees. So that the trainees can get knowledge of a subject and academic activities are well done in the group. Drop out ratio decreases among students. Their mentors can recognize the special abilities of the students. And through activity he/she can try well to develop abilities.

Being a small group of students, students can be given much needed guidance during the activity. And it can be seen that the interest of the students towards study is maintained. During B.Ed. course it becomes necessary to rely on activities to some of the required techniques and skills as a teacher. Attempts are made to maintain the mentor-mentees ratio so that the students can be given personal treatment at that time. Number of 54 students in second year B.E.d there where 12 : 1 is mentees - mentor ratio. Number of 35 students in first year B.Ed., so there where 7:1 is the mentees - mentor ratio.
