Session 15_Basics of Vernacular Innovation
